FLORAL DESIGN

Each wedding or celebration is a completely unique and bespoke event and as such it can be difficult to supply an accurate initial quote for floral designs. There are so many factors that can affect a quotation such as the size and style of arrangements, varieties of flowers used, season or cultural events, and so the prices here should be used as an initial guideline. I love to create an in-depth detailed brief and mood-board for your special day that is individual to you and so the best way to obtain a quote is through a consultation via email, phone or in person where we can discuss exactly how to make your floral dreams come true!
